CIE:	The Centre for International Examinations, Switzerland
SFAA:	The Swiss Financial Analysts Association
AZEK:	The Training Center of the SFAA

II STRUCTURE AND CONTENT OF THE EXAMINATIONS

Article 5 Overall Structure

- (1) The advanced professional examinations for the Certified International Wealth Manager (CIWM) as set forth in these Rules comprise:
 - (a) International (common) examinations (covering common components) centrally administered by AIWM, and
 - (b) A national/regional specific examination (covering national/regional specific components) administered jointly by AIWM and by each AIWM Training Partner (the content of which will be reviewed by the ETB), the ultimate responsibility of the national/regional specific examination remaining with the AIWM.
- (2) The international (common) examinations under (1) (a) above comprise two levels: a Foundation Examination and a Final Examination.

The Foundation Examinations will contain multiple choice, calculation, mini- case study questions which assess the knowledge and analytical skills of candidates on the fundamentals of finance.

The Final Examination will similarly contain multiple choice, calculation, practical case study questions which assess the knowledge and analytical skills of candidates on the specific topics related to Wealth Management.

Article 6 Eligibility to sit for the International Examinations

There are two ways of sitting for the examinations to attain the designation CIWM:

- (1) Those candidates who do not already hold a qualification from an AIWM Accredited examination programme must sit and pass the International (common) Foundation and Final examinations as well as the national/regional specific examination.
- (2) Those candidates who have taken an AIWM-accredited examination programme need only sit and pass the Final Examination as well as the national/regional specific examination areas.

Article 7 Topic Areas and Examination Hours

(1) The international (common) examinations comprise examinations areas as indicated in the table below.

Total examination hours will be fifteen: nine for the Foundation Examination and six for the Final Examination.

The Foundation Examination will consist of three papers and the Final Examination two, both exams covering the following topic areas with the duration of each examination being as indicated.

Foundation Examination:

Topic Areas	Examination Duration (Minutes)
Financial Analysis and Financial Statement Analysis, Equity Valuation and Analysis, Corporate Finance	190
Fixed Income Valuation and Analysis, Economics	160
Derivative Valuation and Analysis, Portfolio Management	190
Total time	540 (i.e. 9 hours)

Final Examination:

Topic Areas	Examination Duration (Minutes)
Wealth Management	180
Relationship Management, Behavioural Finance, Real Estate Valuation and Analysis	180
Total time	360 (i.e. 6 hours)

(2) The national/regional specific examination set by the relevant AIWM Training Partner and/or AIWM will be of at least three hours duration.

The topic areas to be addressed in the national/regional specific examination are those areas which are specific to the particular country/region: such as

- Laws and regulations relevant to wealth management and planning
- Taxation
- International and domestic wealth planning

(3) Total hours of the international (common) examinations (fifteen) and the national/regional specific examination (at least three) will be at minimum eighteen.

Article 8 Language

Candidates may choose to participate in the international (common) examinations either in English or other available languages as determined by the AIWM.

Article 9 Examination Calendar and Venues

- (1) The AIWM is responsible for deciding the schedule of examinations.
- (2) The examinations will be held at several locations on one/two occasions a year for both the Foundation Examination and the Final Examination as determined by AIWM.
- (3) The AIWM Training Partners are responsible for organising examinations in their respective country/region in accordance with guidelines separately adopted by the AIWM.
- (4) The AIWM may organise examinations in countries/regions where there is no AIWM Training Partner, pursuant to guidelines separately adopted by the AIWM.
